

Helpful Information

You can separate this sheet from the rest of the exam, but you must fill out the back and turn it in at the end of the exam.

Reading the ASCII table:

The digits on the left are the first part of the number, and the column gives the final number. So a lowercase letter a is 97, and a lowercase letter w is 119.

Partner Peer Evaluation

Please evaluate the lab partner that you had for Labs 2-5 (new partners will start for Lab 6).

For each question, rank from 0 (poor) to 20 (excellent). If your partner was making a strong effort in all areas, then assigning a 20 in each case is reasonable. If not, grade appropriately and fairly.

Your responses are anonymous. Your partner will only be notified of their average peer score at the end of the semester, averaged over three different lab partners. The instructor reserves the right to adjust extreme peer grades.

Note: labs were not always available for reading in advance, so that question will not be evaluated this time (everyone gets a 20). This will be a real question to evaluate next time.

Your Name: _____

Your Section: 2001 4001 6001

Question	Your primary partner Their name: _____ Enter a score of 1-20 for each below	If you had another partner, enter name: _____ and also fill out below
Did your partner read the lab assignment and preparatory materials before coming to lab?	20 (no choice on this one – see above)	20 (no choice on this one – see above)
Did your partner do their fair share of the work?
Did your partner cooperatively follow the pair programming model (rotating and carrying out the roles of driver and navigator?)
Did your partner make contributions to the completion of the lab assignment?
Did your partner cooperate?
